

Dear Coaching Candidate:

Thank you for your inquiry about the coaching plan options available to you through Schuler Solutions, Inc. Dr. Schuler has coached over 500 executives in his career, providing them information and support to help them to become far more successful in their careers, and more effective in the use and understanding of their own talents and those of others.

There are three basic plans available to you, and they are briefly outlined here. Please note that in all plans, many personalized conferences are likely to occur over the phone, to promote greater flexibility, convenience in scheduling and the efficient use of time. This also allows those who are not located in close proximity to Dr. Schuler's office to take full advantage of his services.

Gold Level

Through this plan, an individual executive can essentially create his or her own personalized executive education program for one year by placing Dr. Schuler on retainer.

Features:

- One year of personal conference availability on retainer
- Full assessment and developmental report on your own talents
- Assistance in creating your own personalized development plan informed by the results of your assessment.

Benefits:

- Education in a comprehensive system through which to understand your own talents and those of others, guiding your interactions and even informing your world view
- Fixed tuition costs for one year
- Most powerful plan available to effect personals and professional development in the service of your goals

Tuition: One fixed annual amount, typically paid in two or three installments over the year, beginning with a 50% deposit up front to cover the costs of the initial assessment and developmental report.

Silver Level

This plan is for the serious learner who wants to make a commitment to individual growth and personal success over time.

Features:

- Block of ten personal conferences contracted for in advance
- Articulation of individualized goals and tracking to promote progress over time
- Flexibility in the frequency of conferences, so that you can make the process last as long as you wish.

Benefits:

- Ability to make your own strategic plans for your learning and development over time
- Opportunity to learn, grow and apply concepts and discoveries at your own pace
- A regular system of consultation, providing you with ideas and supporting your continuing progress toward your goals

Tuition: One amount equivalent the pricing of ten personal conferences, but discounted by 15% for a block purchase. Tuition is typically paid in two installments with 50% as an initial deposit.

Bronze Level:

This plan is for graduates of either of the above programs who wish to have Dr. Schuler available to them on an as-needed basis, and also for new clients who wish to gain experience with the coaching process before investing more fully in their own personalized leadership education program.

Features:

- Personal conferences provided as needed and scheduled at your convenience
- Review of the immediate circumstances that prompt each consultation
- Provision of ideas, goals and interventions designed to address the presenting question or need.

Benefits:

- Ability to obtain assistance for particular circumstances at will
- Adept and helpful crisis management as needed
- Helps ensure that you never feel overwhelmed by providing ideas, interventions and perspectives when you need them

Investment: Hourly rate per conference.
